8th November, 2012

Dear Parent / Guardian,

On Friday 18th January 2013 in the afternoon your son / daughter will be sitting a module exam as part of their OCR GCSE Religious Studies. The exam is Unit B603 Ethics 1 and is worth 25 % of the final exam.

The topics to be examined are: Religion and Human Relationships and Religion and Medical Ethics. These topics were covered in Year 10. We will be allocating some time in lessons this half term to revise these topics however students will need to supplement this with their own revision.

The department will also be running revision sessions covering the material that will be examined every Thursday after school until the exam. The first revision session will be Thursday 15th November 2012 (3:15 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.) in room 5. These sessions are open to all students.

In addition, below are some websites that students may find useful during the revision process:
